

"Coolest,"

Ranch it and rough it and you'll soon get rid of that weak chest and that hacking cough. That is what the doctor said to a young married man with a wife and child to care for and a modest salary to support them.

Love and duty tied him to his desk in the city. People don't have to travel to cure coughs and colds. A few strength weak lungs, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures obstinate, deep-seated coughs, bronchitis, bleeding of the lungs, weakness, emaciation and other forms of disease which if neglected or unsuitably treated terminate fatally in consumption.

"I will write you what Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has done for me," says George H. Belcher, Esq., of Dorchester, Mass. "Thirteen years ago I was wounded by a ball passing through my lung. I have had, but almost ever since, with shortness of breath, and it was very easy to take cold; the slightest change of weather would cause the cough to be so bad I would have to sit up in bed all night. Could not eat or sleep at times; was run down, could not get on my feet. For months I began using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Have not used more than two bottles, and now can eat and sleep and feel like a new man. I cannot find words to sufficiently recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, or the good it has done me."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser in paper covers is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. The book has 200 pages and over 700 illustrations. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

MAY ENDOW THEATERS.

Carnegie Hits on New Plan to Get Rid of His Money.

NEW YORK, April 2.—A London dispatch says: Andrew Carnegie purposes to endow a theater in New York and a theater in London for the elevation of the stage, provided a working plan can be devised which will prevent the management from falling into the hands of extremists or fanatics. Mr. Carnegie's plan is to establish an international theater, with a stage in New York and one in London, that the companies and productions may change from one house to the other, to keep up the interest and to center the play-goers of both nations upon common ideals of dramatic art.

Mr. Carnegie will make an announcement soon which will excite the stage world. He will ask a committee of representative critics, actors, actresses, managers and students of the stage to settle what an endowed theater should present and how it should be managed. If they decide wisely he will endow an international theater.

Mr. Carnegie is now at Antibes.

BRAIN FOOD

Is of Little Benefit Unless It is Digested.

Nearly every man admits that as a nation we eat too much meat and too little of vegetables and the grains. For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact, every one engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are more healthful than meat. Only men engaged in a severe outdoor manual labor can live on a heavy meat diet and continue in health.

As a general rule, meat once a day is sufficient for all classes of men, women and children, and natural digestions, cod-liver oil, should constitute the bulk of food eaten. Many of the most nutritious foods are difficult of digestion, and it is no use advising brain workers to eat largely of meats and vegetables when the digestion is too weak to assimilate them properly. It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and harmless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the relaxed digestive organs, and several years' experience have proven Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to be very safe, pleasant and effective digestive and remedy which may be taken daily with the best results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a patent medicine, as they do not act only on the stomach, but on the entire system. They are a food, and they supply what weak stomachs lack, peptic, digestive, and stimulating the gastric glands, increase the natural secretion of hydrochloric acid, and keep up the strength of the digestive system. There is no danger of forming an injurious habit, as the tablets contain absolutely nothing but natural ingredients, cod-liver oil, morphia and similar drugs have no place in a stomach. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the most popular of all stomach remedies.

Ask your druggist for a fifty-cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and after a week's use note the improvement in health, appetite and nervous energy.

MRS. RICE'S MIXED MARITAL AFFAIRS.

Although Married at Least Once, She Corresponded With Several Other Men.

USED MATRIMONIAL BUREAU.

Daniel Ackery Went From New York to Maine to Claim Her Hand and Ran Into a Hornets' Nest.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Bangor, Me., April 2.—Daniel W. Ackery of Beekmantown, N. Y., was arrested on the afternoon express train for Boston Monday, just as the train was about to leave, on a civil writ charging him with alienation of the affections of Mrs. Bertha Rice, wife of Edwin Rice, of Bradley, Me.

The matrimonial experiences of Mrs. Rice, which began when she was married to her first husband, have been a series of events. Mr. and Mrs. Rice were married in Bar Harbor in 1899, and have since lived in Bradley.

Mrs. Rice has recently been conducting correspondence through matrimonial bureaus in various parts of the country with several men, among them Mr. Ackery, to whom she sent her picture and many letters.

Mr. Ackery came to Bradley a few days ago and was astonished to find the woman married. In the presence of both men Mrs. Rice told Mr. Ackery he was not her husband, but her second husband's brother, and accused him of having stolen from her husband the marriage certificate which he exhibited to Mr. Ackery.

A Quicclaim on a Wife.

Mr. Rice went to Oldtown Monday to consult a lawyer, and while he was absent, Mrs. Rice and Mr. Ackery started for Oldtown to take a train. They were overtaken at Bangor taken to a hotel where, after a conference, Mr. Rice agreed to let his wife go with Ackery for $100.

Mr. Ackery and Mrs. Rice had secured their baggage, which consisted of two trunks and a bundle marked "Mrs. D. W. Ackery, East Beekmantown, N. Y." The woman made all the arrangements in the baggage-room and gave Ackery a check. Deputy Sheriff Gould of Oldtown entered. The man at first refused to leave the car, but the woman told him he had no right, and when outside the car made him give the check to Gould, so that the baggage could be held at the station until they were ready to go. They were driven to a hotel.

Just before the 4:30 o'clock train for Waterville started Monday afternoon the couple appeared at the Maine Central Station to see if their baggage was all right. Again Mrs. Rice took the lead and did all the talking. She informed the men there they had "fixed it all up" by paying the man whom she had left $100.

"No more ought to kick that can get rid of a wife and get $50 for her," said Mrs. Rice.

To a man who asked her why she was leaving her husband she said: "Oh, the man who married me was a fool. He was not a man of money. Besides the old one was not any good. He knew that this one had the money, and that was why he chased us up. This one is a deacon in the church, and that is something."

After a time she added reflectively: "If I hadn't made that mistake in the time table they never would have caught us. But then I had to do everything. This man has not got much of a head, and it would be strange if I did not make a mistake."

She stated that they were going as far as Waterville, Me. town, where the lead and did all the talking. She informed the men there they had "fixed it all up" by paying the man whom she had left $100.

Three Other Husbands Living. Mr. Rice's attorney has discovered since their departure that when the woman was married to Mr. Rice she had three other husbands living, from none of whom she had obtained a divorce so far as can be learned, and it is also said the marriage to Mr. Rice was performed by a false clergyman.

The alleged husbands are George Myhrhall of Bradley, a Mr. Savage of Bangor, a Mr. Littlefield of Greenville, and Mr. Rice. Letters found in the house occupied by the Rice indicate that the woman also contemplated marriage with a man in Wyoming.
